About Me

I'm Léonne Mattens, a joyful and open-minded person, just graduated and eager to explore the world for a broader perspective. Curiosity runs in my veins, pushing me to be creative and embrace new knowledge. Through my two Erasmus experiences, I discovered that the merging of a new environment and their knowledge with my existing skills, broadens my understanding of interior design. I believe that our way of acting deepens what surrounds us, which makes design an intriguing and endless challenge for me. I find joy in collaborating with others and am open-minded for everyone's opinion, all while embracing the fact that I am inquisitive and open for constructive criticism.
