In this journey of architecture, choosing the right path to walk with the right attitude would always remain a difficult choice.

After graduation, it will be all about exploring the field, learning new things, meeting intellectual minds and gaining experience in things that I could never touch in my academics. I sincerely wish to work under a master architect, with total honesty and dedication, for a long time and learn the nuances of architecture better.

Being short in experience at various aspects should not hold me back as curiosity to learn new things and to spend long hours on field is my strength.
